Let's Start!

What can we explore in Namibia? Let's find out!

Learning Outcome

Describe characteristics of different people and their jobs.

Ask your partner:

- Find Namibia on a world map.
- How far is it from the country you live in?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about travel and things to do on a trip.
- I can talk about or report on actions, events or people in the future.
- I can use words to describe specific quantities.

Let's Explore!

Do you want to go to the lodge or visit a national park*? Let's read the ad to find out!

* A "lodge" is a type of hotel where people can stay.

 A "national park" is land protected by a government which people can visit.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Our Namibian safari will start in Windhoek.

On Day 1, we will board the hot-air balloon. Our first stop will be the Sossusvlei Wilderness Camp. It's at the top of a mountain overlooking several acres of open plains. There will be many things to see including the Sossusvlei Dunes, and a number of desert plants and animals.

On Day 3, we'll take a helicopter tour over the dunes and a few surrounding areas. We'll stop at Swakopmund, tour the town and then head to Damaraland Camp.

On Day 4, we will go on a nature drive and a visit to the rock paintings.

On Day 5, we'll depart from Damaraland and head to Ongava Lodge, the perfect vantage point overlooking Etosha National Park. You can sit and watch a great number of animals drink from the watering hole.

From Ongava, we'll fly back to Windhoek.

Let's Practice!

Can you tell me about the things we'll see on the tour? Are we going to the watering hole?

Instructions: Read the sentences and select all the quantifiers.

The camp is at the top of a mountain overlooking several acres of open plains. There will be many things to see, including the Sossusvlei Dunes and a number of desert plants and animals. Learning Points

Talking About the Future

You use the auxiliary will to talk about actions in the future.

Look at the chart for information on how to form sentences with will.

Form	Structure
Affirmative	will + base form of the verb (long form) 'll + base form of the verb (short form)
Negative	will not + base form of the verb (long form) won't + base form of the verb (short form)
Interrogative	Will or Won't + subject + base form of the verb. (yes-no question) Wh-word + will or won't + subject + base form of the verb (wh-question)

Examples:

- I will board the hot-air balloon. (Affirmative)
- We won't be going on the hot-air balloon. (Negative)
- Why won't we go on? (Interrogative)

Quantifiers

You use a quantifier before a noun to indicate the amount or number of an item.

You use quantifiers to talk about the quantity or amount of something.

Quantifiers can be used with countable and uncountable nouns.

These are quantifiers you can use with countable nouns:

- many
- several
- few/a few of
- a number of
- a large/great number of

Examples:

- There are many things to do at the camp.
- There is a large number of plants there.
- I want to take several photos.
