

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Let's take a trip to the library with Sally!

Learning Outcome

Describe characteristics of different people and their jobs.

Ask your partner:

- Do you like to go to the library?
- Why or why not?
- Do you like to read stories?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about customs and traditions.
- I can talk about truths, conditions and given instructions.
- I can make a request.

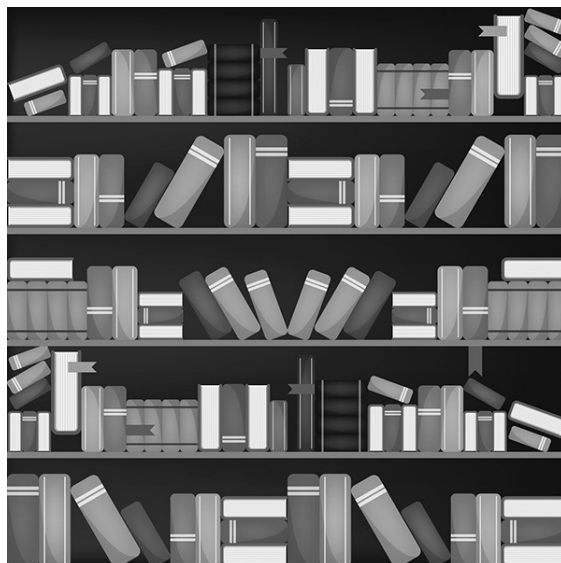

Let's Explore!

Sally is at the library. What book does she check out?

* To "check out" means to borrow.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Sally: I want to learn about legends.
Tour Guide: If you go to the library, you can borrow some books.
Sally: Great idea!
Sally: Hello. I'm looking for a book.
Librarian: If you know the title or author, I can look it up for you.
Sally: I want books about African legends. Can you tell me about them?
Librarian: Many explain the world around us and try to teach us something.
Sally: What types of characters can you find in them?
Librarian: You'll find many animals that have human qualities. They can speak, and they have emotions. Often they have evil characters too, like other legends and myths from around the world.
Sally: Hey! I'm at the ...
Librarian: Miss, when you're in the library, it's not polite to talk on the phone.
Sally: Oh right, sorry!
Librarian: If you want to learn more, read this anthology.
Sally: If I read without my glasses, I'll strain my eyes. I'll check this book out though.

Let's Practice!

If you want to help Sally, sort out the conditionals.

Instructions: Write the words in the correct category.

Word Bank

If you go to the library / If you want to learn more / When you're in the library /
If I read without my glasses / you can borrow books/ read this anthology /
I can look it up for you / it's not polite to talk on the phone / I strain my eyes /
If you know the title or author

Condition

Result

Let's Practice!

What can you tell me about African myths?

Instructions: Organize the mystery sentences. Write each word in the correct order.

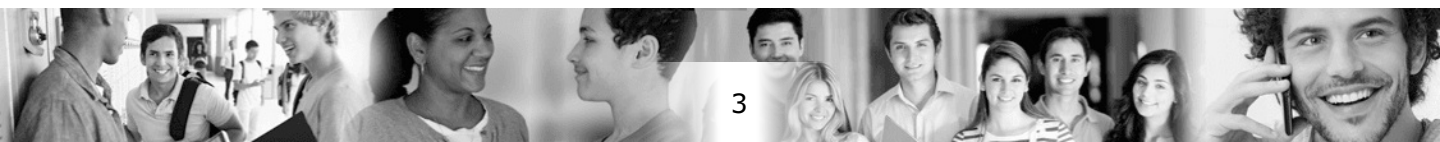

1. African / us / around / . / Many / world / the / myths / explain

2. try / myths / . / teach / The / something / us / to

3. these / find / . / will / human / have / animals / in / that / qualities / many / You / myth

4. The / emotions / and / humans / like / can / have / . / speak / animals

5. . / world / like / Often / the / these / have / evil / other / around / characters / myths / myths / from / too,

Extension Activity

You are going to find a famous myth.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Go on the Internet and find a famous myth from around the world.
- Read the myth. Can you find any zero conditionals in it?
- If you can, write them down. If you can't, make up two you can add into the myth.
- Discuss the myth you read with a partner. Ask them about the myth they read. Did they find any zero conditionals?

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I read a myth.

☐
☐

I look for zero conditionals.

☐
☐

I discuss with a partner.

☐
☐

Target Words

- character (noun): a person or animal in a story
e.g. Are there many characters in myths?
- title (noun): the name of a specific book
e.g. Do you know the title of the book?
- author (noun): a person who writes a book
e.g. Do you know the author of the book?
- evil (adjective): doing mean things to harm others
e.g. There's always an evil character in the story.
- human qualities (noun): things that make a person different from an animal e.g. In African myths, animals have human qualities.
- anthology (noun): a set of stories by different people put together in one book e.g. You should read this anthology.
- to strain (verb): to make a part of your body work too hard e.g. If I read without my glasses, I strain my eyes.

Learning Points

The Zero Conditional

You use the zero conditional to talk about general truths and certainties and to give instructions.

There are two parts to the sentence.

One part is the condition. The other part is the result. When you want to give an instruction, use the imperative in the main clause.

Form:

If or When + subject + the Simple Present Tense/Imperative.

You can flip the two parts of the sentence so that the result comes first.

Subject + the Simple Present tense/Imperative + if or when + subject + the Simple Present

Condition	Result
If you read some books,	you can learn about African traditions.

Result	Condition
My eyes hurt	when I don't have my glasses.

Notice that you only need a comma (,) if you say the condition first.

Legends vs. Myths

Legends and myths are types of stories.

A legend is a story that is based on facts, something that happened in history. It can be about a person.

A myth is a story that is made up or invented. It is a traditional story. They are about animals or gods. Myths are about how something happened.

What are popular legends and myths in your country?

